- First time participating but extremely well organized and excellent facilitation that is especially useful in the broad and challenging topics - Kevin Meagher
- This was much more interesting than I'd originally thought.
- While every challenge presented had merit, the ability that this forum presented to view them collectively and see the interrelationship was priceless.

Salil Kharkar, DC Water

Any suggestions?

- More structure/discussion leaders teed up for the breakout rooms - it was a challenge to get the discussion/ideas going and fill the time
- No suggestions. This was run very well!
- Be interesting to see the challenge concept expanded to engage college and high school students - early engagement
