and industry practitioners to work towards SMART goals to overcome critical regulatory barriers for bankable sustainable energy projects.

- It is critical for all developing regions / islands to have workable plans vs constant talk shops. CREF and New Energy have harnessed the respective brain trust in one spot and stressed conversation must turn into implementation. Thanks for all that you do for the region Thomas Famous JP MP Bermuda Government.

- Marcus Cyrus at Weatherford International
- IRAC is so much more than typical forum. To build regional resilience we have to act with urgency and IRAC catalyses our collective expertise towards developing and implementing meaningful solutions.

- IRAC was a phenomenal experience working with various industry leaders who share the same goal. Great speakers at the debriefing and

IRAC update session; the highlight for me would be the Roundtable Action Challenge- Keifa Stowe Operations Support Weatherford

- This is an ideal induction for a Minister who has been given an energy portfolio and has no previous experience or a member of the government who has no experience . This allows them to meet stakeholders , gain knowledge and skills that can help the government to move its energy policy forward. Skills and knowledge are gained which are definitely transferable. No regret thus far. Our facilitator was just great!!!

- Eric F. Salamanca, Tirksand Caicos Islands
- Justin Cunningham, Compass Group IRAC conference address specific regional issues in a goal oriented manner in a concise one day session.

- Events such as these allow persons to understand that many countries face similar challenges. It also allows countries to see where others are in their handling of concerns. Most of all it shows that progress is possible though tasks seem daunting.

(5/6)

- IRAC provides interactions of utilities, regulators, policy makers and investors who all converge to create practical solutions for building resilience in the Caribbean
- Greg Galmin Burke Energy Solutions LLC 305-877-0024 Well organized program with intelligent speakers!
- If the rest of the world could see, first hand, the passion, intelligence, expertise, and drive in this one room, we would be seen as global equals to any other large and developed countries.
- I get so energized working with my colleagues from the region. The ability to tap into and align such incredible talent to solve the region's greatest challenges.

How can we make IRAC more useful for you? (1/3)

- More time for discussion
- follow up
- Give more visibility of outcomes and process to the wider public
- I think the variety of speakers and topics were sufficient to provide the impact it purposed.
- Contiguous updates on progress made on agreed commitments.
- Keep the communication going
- Vendor Forum Session to understand that the services and resources required covering procurement or registration for tendering.
- The structure and momentum was of session was just right.
- Hosting more IRAC sessions
- We can arrange a workshop in house to ensure the other Ministers, and technicians understand how to move the energy policy forward or another area.
- TCI wants to be involved in future IRAC activities

How can we make IRAC more useful for you? (2/3)

- Na
- More opportunities to meet. More opportunities to leverage support.
- Once general sessions are done, communicate outcomes to Governments
- Study of resilience cost gap for Antigua using Dominica study as a leverage/guide
- More information disseminated prior to the event
- Getting the roadmaps ready from this exercise
- Continue to press the issue/s
- Was difficult to see slides with the room layout.
- Need more time to digest the entire program
- It may be helpful if the tables were balanced between private, government and regulatory participants.
- Keep it up, don't ever think that it's not useful.
- We need more! More funding to support ideas and projects.

How can we make IRAC more useful for you? (3/3)

My table this year was much more productive due to the diversity of participants

- Consider that each market will have different challenges so keep things regionally relevant rather than individual market relevant
